FROM THE PRINCIPAL

The Spring Season and Easter Season go together as we celebrate new life. I hope all are full of the life of Christ in your lives during this time of year. Please enjoy the last few weeks of the school year as the weather has turned and the days are longer. Praying that all of our students can finish the year on a strong note leading into the summer.

Another year is almost complete and we will be wishing our graduating Seniors well. The Class of 2024 has had a unique high school experience and they are stronger because of it. We want to wish them the very best and we know they are going to make us extremely proud.

The month of May is extremely busy and will go by quickly. We are looking forward to Prom on Friday, Senior Academic Signing Day on Tuesday which leads us to AP tests, Final Exams, Senior Mass & Awards, and Graduation to name a few. Just remember to enjoy the moments as they come along and continue to thank our Lord for all of his blessings.

God Bless

Chris Holtz

We take pride to carry on one of Bishop Brossart's most cherished traditions that no deserving student be denied the special BBHS educational experience due to financial need. We are currently at $75,000 of our $110,000 goal. Will you help us continue to THRIVE?

Annual Appeal donations can be sent directly to BBHS with attention to the Development Office or by visiting the Support BBHS section on our website.

ART DEPARTMENT REQUEST

We are always looking for large cardboard boxes. We use heavy, thick, clean cardboard to paint on. It can't have bends or folds. Boxes that TVs, lawn mowers, furniture, appliances come in work well. We will cut them.

Summer Reading

Over the summer, all Bishop Brossart students have summer reading from their English class. The expectation is for each student to read the novel prior to returning to school in August. Below are the novels selected by the English teachers.

Freshmen

Ripper by Stefan Petrucha.

This should be read before the first day of class. It is suggested to read it toward the end of summer, as we will be discussing it and having formal assessments upon return to school in August. Keep notes on the character development as well as chapter highlights. This may be collected for a grade.

Sophomores

The Secret Life of Bees by Sue Monk Kidd.

This should be read before the first day of class. It is suggested to read it toward the end of summer, as we will be discussing it and having formal assessments upon return to school in August. Keep notes on the character development and how the themes are further developed in each chapter. Keeping summary notes is a good idea to help with assessments when you return. This may be collected for a grade.

Juniors

AP Language and Composition: Educated by Tara Westover

American Literature: Life of Pi by Yann Martel

Response Journal Assignment:

Keep response journals in which you record your thoughts on the following characteristics in the text as you read. Ideally, you will record an entry each time you read some of the text. The entries can be as short as a paragraph, but most will probably be about half a page (minimum 100 words). Each entry, even short ones, should have substance to it. Be sure that each entry includes a discussion of why this particular characteristic is significant enough to justify writing about as a journal entry. Label each entry (e.g. "Book Title #4"). In the end, you should have 10 entries. It is not recommended that you wait until you've finished reading to write all the entries. That will be loads of writing work. Rather, write an entry every time you come across something relevant. That way, by the time you're done reading the book, you'll be done with the entries, too.

Seniors

British Literature: The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time by Mark Haddon

Dual Credit: The Secret History by Donna Tartt

- Read other books (not just this book) during the summer
- Start reading my book about a week and a half to a week before school starts
- Take notes if it helps your comprehension. Otherwise, read with the knowledge that you will have a test over the book within the first week of school
